“lemon sorbet”

Lemon, Sorbet,
sweet and sour.
You see it as she say,
Want,
listen to nobody else.
No,
Protege.
Let's Let It Go.
And I hold on the yesterday fucking Strider E2,
down the FDR right around battery.
Let's just do it casually.
Let's do it naturally.
Like,
the way through the king announced catch me feel life occasion.
When I'm with you.
Ooh,
what's the problem was the issue I might call you if I miss you sure to cries at this you know your past know what you've been through.
No the future wants with you.
If I had to go back,
I still pick you.

Let me so bad,
sweet and sour.

You see it,
as she say won't listen to nobody else.

No,

Protege.

Let's Let It Go and I hold onto yesterday.

Put it on a yesterday.

Don't you notice?

Things would change and go on and turn the page,
but you notice all the nicest,
things come right after the rain me,
right after the pain.

Know you stuck in them days but things can't just stay the same lemon sorbet sweet-and-sour.

You see here that she sang won't listen to nobody else?

No protege.

Let's Let It Go and I hold onto yesterday.

Never so bad.

Sweet and sour.

You see it,
as she sang won't.
Listen to nobody else.

No,

Protege.

Let's Let It Go and I hold onto yesterday.
