"I'm Sure He Loves You"

You missed him by two years tomorrow
A hot-headed, yet loving man when on a high note
And just like him, you are one tough act to follow
But you missed him by two years tomorrow

And my father
Was the one who
Used to hold me down
But I'm sure he's proud

That I found someone to hold me now

And I wonder if he stood right there before you
Maybe he could see just how much I adore you

And even though you've never met, I'm sure he loves you

And now the only thing that matters to me is that I matter to you

And if you question my devotion
Please understand, you gave me all of these emotions
I've never known, and never shown, and some are hollow
Cause you missed him by two years tomorrow

And my father
Was the one who
Used to hold me down
But I'm sure he's proud
That I found someone to hold me now

And I wonder if he stood right there before you
Maybe he could see just how much I adore you
And even though you've never met, I'm sure he loves you
And now the only thing that matters to me is that I matter to you

I'm sure he loves you
I'm sure he loves you
I'm sure he loves you
I'm sure he loves you

And now the only thing that matters to me is that I matter to you
