"Animals"

Grace finds a place
On an unforgiving face
The black sheep attacked
By the simple feeling that
A name re-arranged
Makes it feel a certain way
The meat wants to see
Sinful electricity

Even through the pain
Animals cannot change
Dance with the skeletons
And float away
Echoes through the trees
Hear their voices singing
Come home with us my friend

And we'll be at peace

Pray for a change

A cocoon about to break

But now, you feel strange

And the wings started to take shape

Eat and then die

All your siblings cast aside, too

See with new eyes

A world ready to despise you

Hear, though unclear

How the whispers start to cut through

Now, but somehow

You can feel that it's about you

Wow, what a freak

A pariah so to speak

Oh, how could they seek

To kill something so unique?

Even through the pain

Animals cannot change

Dance with the skeletons

And float away
Echoes through the trees
Hear their voices singing
Come home with us my friend
And we'll be at peace

Even through the pain
Animals cannot change
Dance with the skeletons
And float away
Echoes through the trees
Hear their voices singing
Come home with us my friend
