"Moth To A Flame"

You're the cure for this lonely heart

Lying underneath, you keep on hiding

And like a moth to a candle, I

Run within the flames of your dangerous mind, burning bright

Why do you look at me that way, you know we're worlds apart

There's no denying, though I've tried, you're like a perilous spark

I'm bound to catch fire on my way to transcend

Let this be the end of my cries

You're the cure for this lonely heart

Lying underneath, you keep on hiding

And like a moth to a candle, I

Run within the flames of your dangerous mind, burning bright

How can I free myself from hiding behind blurry eyes

It's like a circle, you're the reason I'm spinning so blind

I'm bound to catch fire on my way to transcend

Let this be the end of my cries

You're the cure for this lonely heart
Lying underneath, you keep on hiding
And like a moth to a candle, I
Run within the flames of your dangerous mind, burning bright
Dangerous mind
I'm on my way to transcend now
I'm on my way to transcend now
Won't this be the end of my cries now
I'm bound to catch fire on my way to transcend
Let this be the end of my cries
You're the cure for this lonely heart
Lying underneath
You keep on hiding
And like a moth to a candle, I
Run within the flames of your dangerous mind, burning bright
You're the cure for this lonely heart
Lying underneath, you keep on hiding
And like a moth to a candle, I
Run within the flames of your dangerous mind, burning bright
You're the cure for this lonely heart
