"Holding On"

I'm not ready to get over you

Over you

Over you

'Cuz pain's the only thing that's left from you

Left from you

And even though I'm 'bout to lose myself

I'm just not ready yet to lose you too (ready yet to lose you too)

'Cuz I will rather keep on going through hell

If hell is where I can be close to you

I keep on holding on to all the pieces

Reminding me of you and me

It's been countless hours, a hundred weeks and

I'm stuck in quicksand, you're all that I see (all that I see)

No-, no-, no- nobody knows me better than you

But since you left, I kinda feel like my life's stuck in a loop

(A, a, a) A hundred weeks and I'm stuck in quicksand

You're all that I see

I keep on holding on

People ask me if I'm better now

Better now

Better now

But I'll be honest I just don't know how

Don't know how

Don't know how

And even though I'm 'bout to lose myself

I'm just not ready yet to lose you too (ready yet to lose you too)

'Cuz I will rather keep on going through hell

If hell is where I can be close to you

I keep on holding on to all the pieces

Reminding me of you and me

It's been countless hours, a hundred weeks and

I'm stuck in quicksand, you're all that I see

I keep on holding on to all the pieces

Reminding me of you and me

It's been countless hours, a hundred weeks and

I'm stuck in quicksand, you're all that I see (all that I see)

No-, no-, no- nobody knows me better than you

But since you left, I kinda feel like my life's stuck in a loop

(A, a, a) A hundred weeks and I'm stuck in quicksand

You're all that I see (You're all that I see, yeah)
