

The Golden Trail - Anders Fridén, In Flames, and Nita Strauss Lyrics

This Lyrics is downloaded from Showthelyrics.com check out for more lyrics

"The Golden Trail"

Radiation from days of past
Taste of Sulphur from the acid rain
Lost the momentum, lost the rage
Feel like six feet under but I am awake

When placed against the feeling
Like days that never end
Trembling in a vacuum
But I can't forget so I call your name
I can see right through it all
Yet I can't escape the sirens song
Making sure they never will
But who am I to tell right from wrong?

It's safe to say that I can't tell

There's the moment when all senses fail

Searching for the golden trail

Seconds pass and there's no way

Doesn't seem the same at all

For once I wanna feel something

Been here before but then I fall

When placed against the feeling

Like days that never end

Trembling in a vacuum

But I can't forget so I call your name

I can see right through it all

Yet I can't escape the sirens song

Making sure they never will

But who am I to tell right from wrong?

It's safe to say that I can't tell

There's the moment when all senses fail

(Head to wall, I rush right in)

Searching for the golden trail

Is there light at the end at all?

How will I know when I get too far?

I am searching for the golden trail

When placed against the feeling

Like days that never end

Trembling in a vacuum

But I can't forget so I call your name

I can see right through it all

Yet I can't escape the sirens song

Making sure they never will

But who am I to tell right from wrong?

It's safe to say that I can't tell

There's the moment when all senses fail

Searching for the golden trail

Is there light at the end at all?

How will I know when I get too far?

I am searching for the golden trail

For any correction please mail us at showthelyrics1@gmail.com
