"Wake The Dead"

Yeah!

Make way for the rising tide
There's nothing left on the other side
Too late to apologize
No chance you can make this right

I know you wanna keep me buried
I've been waking over every word you said
What will you do when your world stops turning?
Do you really wanna wake the dead?

If they try to divide us with silence
Cut the dead weight, bring the violence

Bring the violence

Don't say it's not enough
It's not enough

I know you wanna keep me buried
I've been waking over every word you said
What will you do when your world stops turning?
Do you really wanna wake the dead?

So, drag me through the flames (through the flames)
Or drown me in your waves (in your waves)

What will you do when your world stops turning?
Do you really wanna wake the dead?

Oh, we rise, yeah

We rise
'Cause iron sharpens iron
And we will reign in the fire

We rise
We know your time is coming
And you were born to expire

I know you wanna keep me buried
And I've been waking over every word you said
What will you do when your world stops turning?
Do you really wanna wake the dead?

So, drag me through the flames (through the flames)
Or drown me in your waves (in your waves)
What will you do when your world stops turning?
Do you really wanna wake the dead?

Do you really wanna wake the dead?
