"Werewolf"

I stare at the moon

(And I still miss you some days)

(Witness me)

Whoa

Ah

Your bad, bad bones in my blood bath

Your bones will rot (yeah, yeah, yeah)

I'm lost and I'll never get back

So borderline

You'll be a lonely wolf

You don't help me anywhere else (whoa)

Your world will soon go down but underground

And this darkness has become a haven

I'm going deeper underground, can't face it

Ah-ah-ah-ah-ah-ah

Picked up where you left off

I pray on my knees, to my protector

Ah-ah-ah-ah-ah

Get off to the blood that was left on the scene, you was destined

I was lucky with the curse and I can't even talk

I was lucky with the curse and I can't even talk

I was lucky with the curse and I can't even talk

I was lucky with the curse and I can't even talk

And this darkness has become a haven

I'm going deeper underground, can't face it

Better off dead in the ground, I'll see you around, so long

And yet the shadows have become a haven

I stare at the moon

(And I still miss you some days)

And this darkness has become a haven

I'm going deeper underground, can't face it

Better off dead in the ground, I'll see you around, so long

And yet the shadows have become a haven

Witness me (Witness me)
